JOINT POLICY STATEMENT

Our continuing policy is to provide high quality products and services that meet or exceed our customer's expectations, and a commitment to maintain compliance with all applicable statutory and regulatory requirements. This is achieved through adherence to the processes and procedures set out within our Integrated Management System (IMS), which is aligned to ISO9001:2015, ISO14001: 2015 and ISO45001:2018.

We regularly review the requirements of all interested parties, external and internal, that influence our business and its context, and, all applicable statutory and regulatory requirements, in order to ensure all levels of risks and opportunities that could impact our business have been identified. The quality of our products or services; our effectiveness at preventing the effects of pollution and protecting the environment; and of preventing work related injury or ill health by removing hazards and reducing risk; can all have a significant positive or negative impact on both our customers and our own business and we are therefore committed to the continual improvement of our IMS.

Having identified our risks and opportunities we develop action plans to address them, and where appropriate these are incorporated into the Business Objectives. These are determined by the Senior Leadership Team (SLT), with input from consultation and communication with our employees and are aligned to the strategic direction of the business. The business monitors, measures and reviews the delivery and effectiveness of these plans through our established and active Internal Audit Program, the output of which is used to drive continual improvement in all aspects of our business.

The Group Managing Director, supported by the SLT, is responsible for the IMS and this Joint Policy Statement sits within the IMS and will therefore be maintained as part of our documented information. It will be reviewed at least annually, be available to all interested parties as appropriate, and be communicated, understood and applied within the organisation itself.
